Resolution Highlighting President Obama and Democrats' Economic Accomplishments

WHEREAS, under President Obama's leadership over the past six and a half years, we have focused on middle class economics to help our country rebuild and recover from the worst recession since the Great Depression; and

WHEREAS, with 65 consecutive months of private sector job growth, last year was the strongest year for economic growth since the recession and the U.S. economy has added 5.6 million jobs over the past two years; and

WHEREAS, during President Obama's time in office, the national deficit has shrunk by two-thirds as a share of the economy and the deficit in the last fiscal year was below the average of the past 40 years; and

WHEREAS, under President Obama, the U.S. unemployment rate has dropped to 5.3 percent and last year, wages and benefits had their biggest increase since 2008; and

WHEREAS, thanks to the Affordable Care Act, more than 16 million Americans have gained insurance, the uninsured rate has reached its lowest level ever recorded, Medicare recipients have saved over $15 billion on prescription drugs, and the up to 129 million Americans with pre-existing conditions no longer have to worry about being denied coverage; and

WHEREAS, President Obama and Democrats have made it clear that equal pay is a top priority, because while women constitute approximately half of the nation's work force, they only make 78 cents to the dollar as compared to men. This is not just a women's issue, but a family issue; and

WHEREAS, President Obama understands that our nation needs to invest in education to grow our economy and, in another effort to put middle class families first, he has proposed making two years of community college free anyone who is willing to work for it;

THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED that the DNC will continue to support President Obama and Democrats as they work to grow our country's economy and expand economic opportunity from the middle class out.

Resolution in Support of the Affordable Care Act following the U.S. Supreme Court's Decision in King v. Burwell (2015)

WHEREAS, healthcare is a fundamental right for every American, and this historic decision upholding the validity of tax credits that help Americans afford quality health insurance is a victory for the American people; and

WHEREAS, the Supreme Court of the United States, writing through Chief Justice John Roberts, rejected the challenge to the Affordable Care Act and said "Congress passed the Affordable Care Act to improve health insurance markets, not to destroy them. If at all possible, we must interpret the Act in a way that is consistent with the former, and avoids the latter;" and

WHEREAS, as a result of the Affordable Care Act, more than 16 million Americans have gained access to quality, affordable healthcare coverage – and our nation is currently experiencing the highest number of Americans with health insurance than ever before – including approximately 5.7 million young adults under the age of 26, 2.3 million of whom have remained protected under their parents' insurance; and

WHEREAS, furthermore, up to 129 million Americans can no longer be denied coverage or charged more due to their pre-existing conditions; and

WHEREAS, the uninsured rate has reached the lowest level ever recorded, with the African American and Latino communities experiencing the greatest decline in the uninsured rate; and

WHEREAS, healthcare spending in this country is growing at the slowest rate ever recorded in half a century and the Affordable Care Act is projected to reduce the federal deficit; and

WHEREAS, Congressional Republicans, supported by every single 2016 Republican presidential candidate, have tried more than 50 times to repeal or undermine the Affordable Care Act; and

WHEREAS, 4.3 million additional Americans could gain access to affordable care if every state were to accept the Affordable Care Act's expansion of the Medicaid program; and

WHEREAS, President Obama and Democrats have always prioritized the health of every American, working to ensure that all Americans are able to access and afford quality health insurance;

THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED that the Democratic National Committee recognizes the proven effectiveness and continuing importance of the Affordable Care Act and stands with the Supreme Court's decision to preserve access to affordable care for millions of Americans; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that the Democratic National Committee remains steadfast with President Obama to provide quality healthcare coverage for all Americans.

Resolution in Support of Marriage Equality following the U.S. Supreme Court's Decision in Obergefell v. Hodges (2015)

WHEREAS, same-sex marriage is a constitutionally guaranteed right nationwide and can no longer be denied by state laws; and

WHEREAS, the ruling now recognizes same-sex marriages all across this nation and these families will now be protected under the law from the discrimination and mistreatment to which they have long been subjected; and

WHEREAS, this decision is an important victory for the LGBT community and a monumental step forward for our nation; and

WHEREAS, more than half of the nation stands with the Democratic Party and supports marriage equality for LGBT couples; and

WHEREAS, the Democratic Party has a long history of standing up to protect the rights of all Americans, and marriage equality is one of the most important equal rights issues of this century; and

WHEREAS, as the party of inclusion, Democrats have fought for marriage equality because we understand that no American should be discriminated against because of whom they are or who they love; and

WHEREAS, the Supreme Court of the United States, writing through Justice Anthony Kennedy said, "It would misunderstand these men and women to say they disrespect the idea of marriage. Their plea is that they do respect it, respect it so deeply that they seek to find its fulfillment for themselves. Their hope is not to be condemned to live in loneliness, excluded from one of civilization's oldest institutions. They ask for equal dignity in the eyes of the law. The Constitution grants them that right";

THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED that the Democratic National Committee applauds this Supreme Court decision and will continue its work in achieving real progress and supporting the LGBT community.

Resolution in Support of Women's Equality Day

WHEREAS, on August 26, 1920, women in the United States were granted the right to vote with the 19th Amendment to the United States Constitution; and

WHEREAS, the United States recognizes August 26th of each year as Women's Equality Day and gives us an opportunity to reflect on the progress we've made as a nation; and

WHEREAS, Democrats recognize that there is still much work to be done as women continue to earn less than men and make, on average, only 78 cents to every dollar earned by men; and

WHEREAS, President Obama and Democrats support the Paycheck Fairness Act to address the pay gap and ensure that no woman is paid less than her male counterpart for equal work; and

WHEREAS, President Obama and Democrats fought tirelessly to make the Affordable Care Act the law of the land, and today insurance companies cannot unfairly discriminate against women based on gender; and

WHEREAS, Democrats believe that when women succeed, America succeeds, and are working hard to pass common-sense policies that will help move our country forward;

THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED that the Democratic National Committee recognizes that Women's Equality Day is an important opportunity to remind ourselves how hard we've fought, and how we must keep fighting for true equality and opportunity for all women; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that the Democratic National Committee celebrates Women's Equality Day in recognition of the progress that our country has made for gender equality.

Resolution Solidifying Democratic Party Unity

WHEREAS, we look forward to a robust primary process and healthy conversation about the future of our party and our nation; and

WHEREAS, the Democratic Party is the party of inclusion, empowerment and expanded opportunity, and we are fighting to ensure that all Americans have their fair shot and a chance to get ahead; and

WHEREAS, we have seen our country thrive under President Obama and Democratic policies that benefit the middle class and create economic opportunity for all Americans; and

WHEREAS, we understand all of our Democratic presidential candidates are united behind a middleclass family economic agenda including fundamental principles such as ensuring pay equity, raising the minimum wage, investing in education, ensuring access to quality, affordable health care, and fixing our broken immigration system; and

WHEREAS, we look forward to hearing more about each candidate's ideas of reaching these ends throughout the primary process; and

WHEREAS, all of the Democratic presidential candidates stand behind policies creating a ladder of opportunity for all middle class families, and those still struggling to reach the middle class, while Republicans are trying to stifle progress by bringing back trickle-down economic policies that have failed time and time again; and

WHEREAS, we are committed to electing Democratic candidates up and down the ballot and are focused on ensuring that they have the resources and support needed to win no matter who our Democratic nominee is;

THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED that the Democratic Party will stand united behind our eventual nominee to ensure that we elect a Democrat as the 45th president of the United States to continue the progress we've made under President Obama's leadership.

Resolution Honoring the 50th Anniversary of the 1965 Voting Rights Act

WHEREAS, the Voting Rights Act of 1965 ("the Voting Rights Act"), which prohibits voting practices or procedures that discriminate on the basis of race, color, or membership in a language minority group has been acknowledged as one of the most "consequential, efficacious, and amply justified exercises of federal legislative power in our Nation's history,"; and

WHEREAS, African Americans and other minorities historically were prevented from exercising their constitutional rights through the systematic discriminatory and arbitrary use of poll taxes, literacy tests, and so-called "moral character" examinations; and

WHEREAS, despite the guarantees of the Thirteenth, Fourteenth and Fifteenth Amendments to the U.S. Constitution, certain states and electoral districts continued to defy federal law by denying minorities the right to vote, leaving them without a voice to participate in the political process and prohibiting minorities from electing representatives of their choice even in election districts where racial or language minorities constituted a majority of the voting-age population; and

WHEREAS, Andrew Goodman, James Earl Chaney, and Michael H. Schwerner were brutally murdered by Ku Klux Klan members in the State of Mississippi during the Freedom Summer campaign of 1964 because of their efforts to register African Americans to vote; and

WHEREAS, African Americans were excluded from voting in the Democratic primary in the State of Mississippi and Fannie Lou Hamer and other civil rights activists formed the Mississippi Freedom Democratic Party (MFDP) in an effort to replace Mississippi's all-white delegation to the 1964 Democratic National Convention; and

WHEREAS, on March 7, 1965, uniformed law enforcement officers savagely beat peaceful civil rights marchers as they attempted to cross the Edmund Pettus Bridge in Selma, Alabama, and images of that brutality were broadcast across the globe, shocking our nation's conscience and persuading Congress and President Lyndon Johnson to pass voting rights legislation; and

WHEREAS, support for the Voting Rights Act was both bipartisan and national, with Senate Democratic Leader Michael Mansfield of Montana and Senate Republican Leader Everett Dirksen from Illinois together introducing the bill in the Senate in 1965 before being signed into law by President Johnson; and

WHEREAS, the Voting Rights Act continued to enjoy bipartisan support, as every Republican president elected since 1965 has signed an extension of the Act, most recently in 2006, when Congress recognized the continuing importance of the Voting Rights Act, held extensive hearings that produced evidence of the many obstacles minority voters continue to face, and thus passed the Fannie Lou Hamer, Rosa Parks, Coretta Scott King, César E. Chávez, Barbara C. Jordan, William C. Velásquez, and Dr. Hector P. Garcia Voting Rights Act Reauthorization and Amendments Act of 2006, with a unanimous vote in the U.S. Senate and an overwhelmingly bipartisan vote of 390-33 in the U.S. House of Representatives, reauthorizing the VRA for 25 years; and

WHEREAS, the registration of white voters historically was approximately fifty percentage points higher than minority registration prior to 1965, and the African American voter turnout rate surpassed the white voter turnout rate in the 2012 presidential election; and

WHEREAS, election jurisdictions that once erected harsh barriers to voter registration and maintained a system of pervasive and unconstitutional racial discrimination now elect minority candidates, with African Americans comprising nearly a third of the State of Georgia's delegation in the U.S. House of Representatives in recent Congresses; and

WHEREAS, the language minority provisions of the Voting Rights Act have removed barriers to voting for millions of Latino, Asian American, and Native American citizens, with a record 11 million Latino voters casting a ballot in 2012 and a record 14 Asian American members of Congress sworn-in in 2015; and

WHEREAS, the preclearance provisions of the Voting Rights Act successfully protected our elections from voting changes with the intent or effect of discriminating against minority voters, as the Department of Justice objected to and prevented the administration of more than 700 such voting changes between 1982 and 2006; and

WHEREAS, the Voting Rights Act has successfully expanded access for members of racial and language minority groups to participate in the political process and elect representatives of their choice, as we have witnessed the historic election and re-election of President Barack Obama, the first African American president of the United States; and

WHEREAS, despite the historic successes of the Voting Rights Act, on too many occasions our nation's election systems were still not open to all; and

WHEREAS, in the 2000 presidential election, the State of Florida knowingly employed a flawed process, which was purportedly intended to purge voters with a felony conviction, but was known to yield a substantial proportion of false positives, and nearly 9 out of 10 of the voters removed from the rolls under that process reportedly were African American even though African Americans accounted for only one-tenth of all Florida's voters, and that as a result of the knowing use of this flawed discriminatory process tens of thousands of legitimate minority voters were knowingly and unconstitutionally disenfranchised; and

WHEREAS, in the 2004 presidential election, in the State of Ohio numerous, serious election irregularities caused by intentional misconduct by the state's Secretary of State were discovered, including the misallocation of voting machines leading to unprecedented long lines, restricting provisional ballots, rejection of voter registration applications based on paper weight, and other actions resulted in the significant disenfranchisement of hundreds of thousands of votes and voters; and

WHEREAS, in the 2012 presidential election, reports of lines of 7 hours or more from states including Florida, Ohio and Virginia, prompted President Obama to create the Presidential Commission on Election Administration to identify best practices and otherwise make recommendations to promote the efficient administration of elections in order to ensure that all eligible voters have the opportunity to cast their ballots without undue delay, and to improve the experience of voters facing other obstacles in casting their ballots; and

WHEREAS, in 2013 a key provision of the Voting Rights Act that prevented the imposition of voting laws that have a discriminatory effect was invalidated by the Supreme Court in its Shelby County v Holder decision, leaving citizens without one of the most effective tools that has ever been brought to bear against voting rights discrimination; and

WHEREAS, since the Shelby decision, 16 states have enacted or made effective voting practices and procedures, such as the overly-inclusive and insufficiently defined voter purging programs, the reduction of early vote periods, the elimination of same day registration, the requirement of documented proof of citizenship, and the requirement of new photo, limited forms of acceptable identification, each of which, collectively or individually, could have the intent of and effect of discriminating against racial and language minorities; and

WHEREAS, we betray our ideals when any American, regardless of where they live or their party is denied their rights to vote because they cannot wait in line for five, six or seven hours just to cast their ballot;

THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED that the Democratic National Committee recognizes the 50th anniversary of the Voting Rights Act of 1965 by celebrating the legislation's unmatched achievement in expanding voting rights and by emphasizing the continuing need for the critical protections the Act affords; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that the Democratic National Committee supports the restoration of a high level protection for these important rights through a renewed commitment to the Voting Rights Act; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that the Democratic National Committee advocates for a strong modernization of the preclearance enforcement formula of the Voting Rights Act's provisions and will continue to advance and promote an open and fair system of elections for all citizens; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that the Democratic National Committee calls on the Congress to restore the protections of the Voting Rights Act to stem the tide of discrimination that has affected American elections for more than 50 years; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that the Democratic National Committee affirms its commitment to increasing participation in the electoral process and to ensuring that all the eligible Americans are able to easily participate in open, free, and fair elections; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that in the honor and the spirit of the Voting Rights Act of 1965, the Democratic National Committee reaffirms its support for a Constitutional Amendment to explicitly guarantee Americans' right to vote.

Resolution Regarding Immigration Reform and Workers' Rights

WHEREAS, we remain committed to comprehensive immigration reform that is comprised of many things including enhanced worker protections and a broad and inclusive pathway to citizenship; and

WHEREAS, we continue to support the President's Executive Actions on Immigration which would bring millions of people from the underground economy more fully into the fabric of our country; and

WHEREAS, we believe that a rights-driven approach to immigration reform – one that respects the hardships and contributions of those living here as well as those moving here and prevents our immigration system from being used to lower wages for all working people – is needed; and

WHEREAS, too often, immigration enforcement occurs in the midst of an organizing drive, bargaining campaign, or other concerted job action;

THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED that the Democratic Party will work to ensure that immigrant workers who assert their rights on the job through organizing and other concerted actions will be protected and that we reject the use of immigration enforcement actions as a tool to deny workers their collective rights.

Resolution Commemorating Those Murdered at Charleston's Emanuel AME Church

WHEREAS, Emanuel African Methodist Episcopal Church, one of the oldest and largest AME churches south of Baltimore, was the scene of a racially motivated domestic terrorist attack on June 17 by a man who targeted the church because – he said - he wanted to start a race war; and

WHEREAS, Mother Emanuel, founded in 1816, renowned and burned for its affiliation with the Denmark Vesey slave revolt during the 1800s and served as a strategic haven for the civil rights movement of the 1960s, has always been at the forefront of alleviating the bonds of oppression and suppression and fighting for economic and social opportunities to uplift the black community; and

WHEREAS, nine devout Christians opened their doors and accepted an unfamiliar guest to their Wednesday night prayer service, only to face mortality at his hands:

Senator Rev. Clementa Pinckney, 41: State senator and the senior pastor of Emanuel, married to Jennifer Benjamin and the father of two children. A 1995 graduate of Allen University, he received a master's degree from the University of South Carolina in 1999. He served in the state Legislature starting in 2001.

Cynthia Hurd, 54: A 31-year employee who managed the John L. Dart Library for 21 years before leading the St. Andrews Regional Library. Charleston County officials plan to rename the library for Hurd in memoriam.

Rev. Sharonda Coleman-Singleton, 45: Pastor at Emanuel, graduate of South Carolina State University, speech therapist and high school girls track and field coach at Goose Creek High School, mother of three children.

Tywanza Sanders, 26: Graduated in 2014 with a business administration degree from Allen University in Columbia. Lady June Cole, the interim President of Allen University, described him as "a quiet, well-known student who was committed to his education." Known as Ty, he worked in sales at department stores such as Belk and Macy's and described himself as a poet, artist and businessman.

Ethel Lance, 70: A mother and grandmother, she attended Emanuel for most of her life and worked there as a custodian as well. From 1968 to 2002, she worked as a custodian at Charleston's Gaillard Municipal Auditorium.

Susie Jackson, 87: Lance's cousin and Sanders' aunt, she was a longtime church member, sang in the choir, and a member of the usher board.

Depayne Middleton Doctor, 49: The mother of four sang in Emanuel's choir. In December, she started a job as an admissions coordinator at the Charleston campus of Southern Wesleyan University, her alma mater. Previously, she directed a community development program in Charleston County.

Rev. Daniel Simmons, 74: A community activist, leader of countless voter registration drives, friend to many civil rights icons including Septima Clark and pastor at another church in the Charleston area.

Myra Thompson, 59: Earned a bachelor's degree from Benedict College in English education and two masters degrees from the Citadel, later taught English and worked as a guidance counselor at Cathedral Catholic and Brentwood Middle Schools. Thompson was married to Rev. Anthony Thompson, the vicar of Holy Trinity Reformed Episcopal Church in Charleston; and

WHEREAS, Americans stood up and joined hands with the citizens of Charleston and all of South Carolina to denounce this horrendous act of violence and to honor the courageous nine whose lives were taken too soon; and

WHEREAS, out of hate emerged a global groundswell of righteousness and love for a community who mourned and supported each other throughout the dark days of their tragedy; and

WHEREAS, the act of forgiveness by families of the "Emanuel 9" created a cooperative spirit among elected officials, legislators and the citizens of South Carolina, which led to the Confederate rebel flag, that motivated the killer, to be removed from the state house grounds; and

WHEREAS, as President Obama said in his eulogy, "it would be a betrayal of everything Reverend Pinckney stood for, I believe, if we allowed ourselves to slip into a comfortable silence again. ... to go back to business as usual -- that's what we so often do to avoid uncomfortable truths about the prejudice that still infects our society. To settle for symbolic gestures without following up with the hard work of more lasting change-that's how we lose our way again. It would be a refutation of the forgiveness expressed by those families if we merely slipped into old habits, whereby those who disagree with us are not merely wrong but bad; where we shout instead of listen; where we barricade ourselves behind preconceived notions or well-practiced cynicism.";

THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED that the Democratic National Committee condemns the killings in Charleston, celebrates the lives of the "Emanuel 9" and honors the families of the victims by recognizing their deep love, acts of forgiveness and desire to make whole their state and city of Charleston; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that the Democratic National Committee urges all Americans to continue the fight against racial hatred and injustice and in the President's words "break the cycle, using history as a roadway toward a better world, traveling the path of grace with an open mind and an open heart."

Resolution Advancing Democrats' Women Succeed Agenda: Raising Wages, Paycheck Fairness, Childcare and Paid Sick Days

WHEREAS, Democrats believe that when women succeed, America succeeds, and have created a "Women Succeed" agenda to identify problems, progress, and solutions to help move our country forward; and

WHEREAS, women are now 50% of the labor force for the first time in our nation's history and 40% of all primary breadwinners are now moms, yet our family economic security policies in the areas of paid family leave, affordable childcare, sick days, and more lag behind our modern labor as well as most other industrialized nations which hurts our families and our economy alike; and

WHEREAS, fifty years after President John F. Kennedy signed the Equal Pay Act into law, women continue to earn less than men with women of color and moms experiencing the highest wage discrimination. On average, women make only 78 cents for every dollar earned by men, amounting to a yearly gap of $10,876 between full-time men and women. That $10,876 lost could purchase a month's worth of groceries or gas or rent to support a woman's family – and grow the economy. For African American women and Latinas the pay gap is even larger -- African American women on average earn only 64 cents and Latinas on average earn only 56 cents for every dollar earned by white, non-Hispanic men. The parent gap is significant: mothers who work full time, year round only make 70 cents for every dollar paid to fathers. Fair pay is a priority, and as such moving forward paycheck fairness policies that allow for pay transparency and protect employees from retaliation are a priority too. In addition, the minimum wage is a women's and fair pay issue; nearly two-thirds of minimum wage workers are women. Yet the minimum wage is not a fair and living wage and has not kept up with inflation over the last 45 years – with the minimum wage now, in inflation-adjusted terms, more than 30% lower than it was in 1968 despite overwhelming public support for raising wages; and

WHEREAS, workers in 145 countries around the world have earned paid sick days – but there is no policy to ensure earned paid sick days in the U.S. More than 43 million private sector workers in this country – including more than 43% of working women– are not able to take a paid sick day when they or a family member are ill. Millions more lack paid sick time to care for a sick child. Nearly one-quarter of adults in the U.S. (23 %) report that they have lost a job or have been threatened with job loss for taking time off due to illness or to care for a sick child or relative. Further, the United States has no mandatory paid family and medical leave policy -- making it one of just three countries in the world and the only country among industrialized countries to not mandate paid maternity leave for new mothers. Fully 87% of the U.S. workforce does not have paid family leave through their employers, and more than 60% of the workforce does not have paid personal medical leave through an employer-provided temporary disability program, which some new mothers use; and

WHEREAS, child care is a necessity for most families with preschool children because households need two incomes to pay all the bills. There is a drastic lack of high-quality preschool for children in the U.S., particularly when compared with most other industrialized countries. What's more, the lack of availability of affordable and high-quality childcare in this country has reached crisis proportions. The U.S. ranks 28th out of 38 countries in the share of four-year-olds enrolled in preschool, according to the Organization for Economic Cooperation and Development (OECD). Nearly two-thirds of American women with pre-school age children are in the labor force - yet in the U.S., families are generally left on their own for providing child care. The average cost of full-time childcare for one child in a childcare center in 2013 ranged from $4,500 to $16,500 depending on the state;

THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED that the DNC supports the "Women Succeed" Initiative to provide concrete solutions that empower women in pay, family leave and childcare; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that the DNC urges the Republican Congress to pass paycheck fairness, raise the minimum wage (including for tipped workers) to $15.00 an hour, invest in Job Training and education opportunities, protect and restore employment rights, support women entrepreneurs/small businesses, ensure pregnant workers fairness, and empower adequate tools to investigate wage discrimination; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that the DNC praises the progress made by President Obama's executive orders, state legislatures and ballot measures across the country from California to New York, and local jurisdictions, to advance raising wages, paid sick days, and paid family and medical leave including maternity/paternity leave; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that the DNC calls on the Republican Congress to act on Congressional Democrats' and President Obama's Preschool and Early Head Start/Child Care Initiative and efforts to promote affordable and high quality child care, adequate funding of child care programs, adequate training and pay for child care workers, expanding the child care tax credit, making the child tax credit permanent, indexed, and refundable, and increasing access to child support so that all women are empowered to raise happy, healthy families and to reach their fullest human and economic potential.

Resolution Condemning Extrajudicial Killings and Affirming Black Lives Matter

WHEREAS, the Democratic Party believes in the American Dream and the promise of liberty and justice for all, and we know that this dream is a nightmare for too many young people stripped of their dignity under the vestiges of slavery, Jim Crow and White Supremacy; and

WHEREAS, we, the Democratic National Committee, have repeatedly called for race and justice – demilitarization of police, ending racial profiling, criminal justice reform, and investments in young people, families, and communities -- after Trayvon Martin, after Michael Brown, after Tamir Rice, after Freddie Gray, after Sandra Bland, after Christian Taylor, after too many others lost in the unacceptable epidemic of extrajudicial killings of unarmed black men, women, and children at the hands of police; and

WHEREAS, we hear the "Black lives matter" cry from the inspiration of creators Patrisse Cullors, Opal Tometi, and Alicia Garza, and from the heart of a generation of young African Americans who feel totally dismissed and unheard as they are crushed between unlawful street violence and unjust police violence; we salute the courageous young people who participate in the #March2Justice, and we repeat the chant "say her name" to acknowledge the Black women whose stories are often untold and whose cases are unresolved; and

WHEREAS, without systemic reform this state of unrest jeopardizes the well-being of our democracy and our nation;

THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED that the DNC joins with Americans across the country in affirming "Black lives matter" and the "say her name" efforts to make visible the pain of our fellow and sister Americans as they condemn extrajudicial killings of unarmed African American men, women and children; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that the DNC renews our previous calls to action and urges Congress to adopt systemic reforms at state, local, and federal levels to prohibit law enforcement from profiling based on race, nationality, ethnicity, or religion, to minimize the transfer of excess equipment (like the military-grade vehicles and weapons that were used to police peaceful civilians in the streets of Ferguson, Missouri) to federal and state law enforcement; and to support prevention programs that give young people alternatives to incarceration.
